The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), Sagar Group of Institutions - SISTec Ratibad celebrated National Innovation Day with sessions on "Functioning of IIC" and "Innovative Approach for Problem Identification", paying tribute to Dr. Kalam on his Birth Anniversary.

The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) of GSFC University and GUITAR Council celebrated National Innovation Day with a session on Dr. Kalam Contributions and Achievements on his Birth Anniversary.

Sessions begin with an inaugural address by Dr. Saroj Shekhawat, President of IIC. She mentioned that national Innovation Day is celebrated commemorating the birth anniversary of the former President of India, Bharat Ratna APJ Abdul Kalam and invited Mr. Kirankumar Parmar, Convener, IIC for a presentation.

Mr. Kirankumar Parmar briefed participants that Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam was an engineer by his qualification and a scientist by profession. He said Dr. Kalam served as the 11th President of India from 2002 to 2007 and is one of the most distinguished scientists of India with the unique honour of receiving honorary doctorates from 48 Universities and institutions from India and abroad.

Mr. Kirankumar said that Dr. Kalam planned programs to produce a number of successful missiles, which helped earn him the nickname “Missile Man”.

Mr. Kirankumar Parmar explained Dr. Kalam contribution to Fiberglass Technology, Satellite Launch Vehicle (SLV-3) and Integrated Guided Missile Development Programme (IGMDP) to develop five different missiles- Prithvi, Agni, Trishul, Akash, Nag.

- (1) Nag - an anti-tank guided missile
- (2) Prithvi - a surface-to-surface battlefield missile
- (3) Akash - a swift, medium-range surface-to-air missile
- (4) Trishul - a quick-reaction surface-to-air missile with a shorter range
- (5) Agni - an intermediate-range ballistic missile, the mightiest

Mr. Kirankumar Parmar informed participants that Dr. Kalam received the award Padma Bhushan (1981), Padma Vibhushan (1990) and the highest civilian award Bharat Ratna (1997).

In the end, Mr. Kirankumar Parmar invited participants to submit their innovative ideas and take the benefit under Student Startup and Innovation Policy (SSIP 2.0).
